

Please, do not give control of the internet to money. We are being bombarded with challenges as the powerful take control of our media, purchase, by purchase. Free speech is disappearing a little more every day. The net will be our last line of defense to protect our democracy as the framers intended. Please. Be a patriot. Your country is depending on you to do the right thing.

Colette George